

Sugar Tots News

Welcome to our first 2017 newsletter!

We would like to congratulate our Sugartots Eve and Thea on becoming new “big sisters” in the last few weeks. We wish the new mums and babies all the best and hope to see them soon.

Congratulations!

A few mums have asked if we can have some guest speakers / information leaflets to come to our group to talk about dental health etc. We have now received some dental health leaflets and toothbrushes and toothpaste to distribute. If there are any information on services/guest speakers you would like, please ask Mrs Roscoe and we will try our best to arrange.

We hopefully will be able to start our art gallery up again and can hang some of our creations and pictures on our new Sugartots notice board on the wall in the foyer. We have paints, pencils, crayons and stickers so I'm expecting some wonderful masterpieces to hang up!

I'm really looking forward to some lovely Sugartot sessions in 2017. Our Sugartots song time is becoming louder each week and it's nice to see them all starting to use actions with the songs. A big shout out goes to all the parents and carers who assist with the cleaning up and refreshments – it helps so much!
