Respect for All

Weekly Newsletter: 17th March 2023

Science Week:

'The children have all enjoyed joining in with our Science Week Investigations this week. Each class has carried out a variety of science activities linked to this year's theme. Some classes have had fun looking at the links between animals and their habitats, and research based activities like the journey our food takes from food to fork. Some of us even joined in with the live science lesson on BBC this week!'

Reception enjoyed carrying out a senses experiment and Year 5 joined in with a Live Science lesson.

RED NOSE DAY

Thank you for all your kind donations for Red Nose Day, it was great to see everyone taking part wearing red and dressing up.

Weekly Book Recommendation

15-minute STEM by Emily Hunt. (Age5-11 Years)

A great book to follow up some of the work the children have been doing this week for British Science Week. The book contains 40 quick, easy to access STEM activities that are all hands on and will encourage curiosity. Practical, fun and instructive.

Scholastic Book Fair.

The scholastic book fair will be open for parents to come and view and purchase books next week.

The books will be displayed in the school hall each night from Thursday 23rd march until (and including) Tuesday 28th march from 3.15pm until 3.45pm.

We look forward to seeing you all.
